C. M. (Mac) Todd of Pahokee is announcing his candidacy this week for tax collector of Palm Beach county. His announcement appears elsewhere in this issue. Mac has a whole host of friends in the Lake Okeechobee region who are wishing him lots of luck in his race.

Col. J. M. Lee, state comptroller, is announcing this week for re-election. He will be opposed by Edwin G. Fraser, Maclevy, who will speak tonight at eight o'clock in Belle Glade.

Announcements are coming coming thick and fast during the closing days of the qualification. Saturday, March 22nd is the last day for the county and county candidates to qualify.

Field Day Events Greatly Enjoyed By Workmen, Visitors

End Of Harvest Affair Attracts Large Crowd To Azucar

The annual field day program and barbecue given each year at the close of sugar season by the United States Sugar Corporation was held at Azucar, on last Friday for the eastern division and it proved one of the most successful ever held with around 2500 persons in attendance.

This day is primarily set up for the entertainment of the colored employees on the plantation, and they were all out and enjoyed the program. Many hundreds of white people were also present to witness the field day events, and participate in the barbecue.

There was one organization that attracted more than passing notice and that was the colored school band of some 20 pieces. The band did fine parade work, and also furnished a fine dinner. Four Singers also pleased and delighted with a program of songs including the spirituals: "I've Heard of a Hero Called Heaven," "In the Water," "He's on the Cross," and "Nobody Knows the Trouble I See." Joshua and the Bible. The interpretation of the numbers by members of the chorus.

The big barbecue was served as usual and it was just as appetizing and filling as customary. The buck and wing dancing continued on (continued on page 3).

Salvatore To Seek School Board Job

Carmen Salvatore, present member of the county school board, today announces his candidacy for re-election. School District No. 1 which Mr. Salvatore serves is comprised of Canal Point, Pahokee, Belle Glade, Chosen, South, Bay City, Lake Harbor and Bon-Har.

The present members of the board from this section has been in office for a period of 21 years and has three children in the Pahokee schools. He believes in an economical administration of school affairs. Through cooperation with other county officials for the betterment of the school system of the county. He has always been interested in the development of the Glades and acknowledges continued effort in behalf of better schools if re-elected.

Stafford Suggests Water Control Plan For Everglades

Points Out Needs In Drainage To District Army Engineers

At the Belle Glade government waterways hearing on Tuesday, W. M. Stafford, chief of the Everglades Fire Control District, presented a statement for the record, which gives a complete outline of the projects proposed for the Glades area.

If these suggested improvements are ever made it is certain that there will be a much enlarged and improved waterway, drainage, irrigation and fire control system in the entire Glades. It will also provide for storage systems, new dikes for retention of water, and provisions for fresh water supplies for the east coast and south Florida cities.

Whitehair Wants Better Schools For Youth Of Florida

Also Pledges Co-Operation To County Sheriffs Of The State

DELAND, March 14.—Francis P. Whitehair, an active 30-year-old candidate for governor who is figured at the top of the heap by many political prognosticators in the state, this week struck lusty blows for better schools and control of law enforcement in the hands of local authorities.

In West Palm Beach Whitehair said the school teacher of Florida is paid the pitifully small average salary of $70 a month.

"Somewhere is the hustle and bustle of pioneering our great state we have forgotten that education for democracy is the backbone of America. Education for Democracy is our first line of defense against the dictators of Europe and all the Americas, which are constantly nipping at our heels."

"America's future, Florida's future, depend largely upon our free, public school system where our children and our children's children are taught the principles of Democracy."

Mr. Whitehair said he had a great love for Florida's public school system, "because I was a poor boy myself and would have been torn from destruction by fire and erosion."

Stock Field Day Is Reported A Success

The most successful stock field day ever held by the state at the Everglades Experiment Station, last Friday, was reported by a successful company of farmers, stockmen, buyers and spectators.

Dr. J. M. Lee, chief of the University of Florida, Dr. H. G. Kirk and Dr. Ralph Kidder, tending the stock and forage production. All were informational and instructive to the listeners.

Owing to the fact that only one fat stock offered for sale, all bids were declared off, and the stock will be held for later sale at a better market price.

The visit over the farm was one of the high light occasions of the day.

Jim Lee Announces For Comptroller

Tallahassee, March 14.—State Comptroller J. M. Lee today qualified in the Secretary of State's office to make the race to succeed himself. He gave the newspaper the following formal announcement of his candidacy in the Democratic primary on May 14.

"I am a candidate for the office of State Comptroller. My candidacy is based upon my official record for necessary purposes and is characterized by a firm stand for a fair and impartial collection of the dollar of revenue, and the disbursement of same only for necessary purposes and in strict accordance with law."

"I shall deeply appreciate the careful consideration and support of every citizen of Florida."

High Wind Wreaks Havoc on Crops and Boats In Lake Area

Beans and Peas Lifted From Ground By Friday Night Blow

A high wind that reached almost the 70 mile speed, blew in from the south over Lake Okeechobee, last Friday afternoon and night, reaching almost hurricane velocity. Its damage was extensive and heavy, taking toll in several ways. First, it did no good to the field crops. Beans and peas were lifted from the ground, and tomatoes and chilies so that their stems withered. The damage was as great as if a frost had come. Many rows were loosened up and some blown off, and considerable property damage is reported over the area.

A LAW FOR THE ORPHANS

B. Elliott of Pahokee has advanced an interesting suggestion, which he intends to place before the Florida Legislature next year.

He believes there should be a law to prohibit the separation of little children, who are left orphans either by the death or separation of their parents.

"I feel that when children are left upon the mercy of society, they should either be taken together by adoption or placed in an orphan's home," Mr. Elliott says in a letter to this newspaper. "We all know of instances in which someone would take care of a family of orphans, because the land carries hair or blue eyes, leaving the others to be placed in an institution.

In proof of the tragedy this sort of thing can bring into human lives, Mr. Elliott cited two particularly glaring instances. One occurred in West Palm Beach, when the mother of a large family of children was killed by the father, and a number of kind hearted people offered to adopt one of them that was particularly attractive. The heartbroken brothers and sisters begged that all be kept together.

His second reference is to the recent Indiana case of a brother and sister, who learned of their relationship after being married to each other. Orphaned in infancy, one was adopted and the other sent to an orphan asylum.

Fortunately such occurrences are rare, but that makes them no less tragic for the individuals involved. But instances of orphaned brothers and sisters being separated in childhood are by no means uncommon, despite our more enlightened methods of treating dependent children nowadays.

A law such as Mr. Elliott proposed would unquestionably prevent many heartaches and make for happiness among those who unable to protect themselves against the world's cruelties. —Palm Beach Post.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN—

"MODERN"?

WHY is an all-electric kitchen "modern"? Because an all-electric kitchen (equipped with electric cooking, refrigeration and automatic electric water heating) is the ultimate in convenience and safety. Because it saves time and work, is easier to keep clean, is dependable. Because it simplifies household management, and cuts costs—thanks to "stepdown" rates.

Call our office today—Ask about electric kitchen demonstration, a free Sanyo Service. We will supply you with a sketch, too, showing how to arrange your own kitchen for step-down convenience—and show you how to light—designed for your eyes, not for your wallet.

Festivities Close Harvest Season At Clewiston's Mill

Barbecue And Dance Enjoyed By Thousands On Saturday

The big harvest-end barbecue and dance at the Sugar house at Clewiston was an attraction that drew thousands of people there Saturday. The sugar house had been beautifully decorated with greenery and flag decorations for the occasion, and attractive serving booths had been arranged along the side of the mill, where those delicious barbecue viands were dispersed to more than 3000 people.

In the afternoon, the newly formed Clewiston band, under the direction of Prof. Frank Sturchee, presented a program of band music, which was attentively heard by the big assemblage of people.

On a large grid board #4 was presented a facsimile message from Clarence Bittling, of the U. S. Sugar Corporation, from New York, which read: "Congratulations to the entire organization, on account of harvest under extreme difficulties and unusual handicaps. Sorry I cannot be present. Extend good wishes to all."

The big dance in the evening was attended by people from miles around, and many from Canal Point, Pahokee and Belle Glade were in the crowd.

Jay W. Moran, vice president and general manager of the corporation, issued a statement in which he said: "The 1939-40 crop produced 663,222 tons of cane and 128,184,875 pounds of sugar. The crop lasted 135 days and could have been extended until May 1 but for the effect of adverse climatic conditions in combination with federal restrictions on production."

The sugar house, Mr. Moran said, attained its highest rate of efficient operation this season with a higher average hourly grinding and less time lost for mechanical repairs and clean-up. This lost time amounted to less than four per cent of the total operating time.

Approximately 5,000 acres of cane remain uncut.

CALLED TO LAKELAND
 Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bush, were called to Lakeland Saturday afternoon on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Bush's mother, Mrs. Joe Bush.

Field Day Events—

test between men entrants greatly pleased the vast audience, and how those boys did cut their steps. Some were straight pitter dancers and others were of a more colorful nature.

Robert Barr, aged 52, who in his day was a show dancer, was the winner of the day, as he displayed the most suppleness and the best steps, although he was hard pressed by younger Henry Hyde, the comedian and William Crayshaw, who could do a slick piece of hoofing. Prizes were awarded to these three men.

Lewis Johnson won the 1937 Dodge automobile. Not being a driver he had to have a friend to drive his new possession off the field.

TALKS ON TAXES

Tax Assessor James Owens Jr., and Tax Collector Stetson Sprad were honor guests at the Tuesday meeting of the Pahokee Lion's Club. Mr. Owens gave a most entertaining talk on "Taxes."

BRIGHTEN UP LOT

De Charles Creed had beautified his vacant lot between his block and the B & B store, by erecting a white picket fence. He has also torn down the old, frame garage building which faced the street. His rental cottage has also been remodeled and repainted.

REV. MEREDITH VISITS

Rev. Meredith, Superintendent of the East Coast district of the Methodist church, on Sunday afternoon, conducted a Youth's conference at the church, and then in the evening preached to a large audience. All are pleased when this administrator and minister makes his official visits to the local church.

Facts Presented To—

The Miami metropolitan district, J. D. Butler, representing the East Coast district, Robert Allen, representing the National Audubon Society, Mayor John Dufany, representing the Pahokee harbor project, William Stidell, of Hialeah, and others.

Mayor John A. Dufany of Pahokee presented the following brief to the engineers: "I wish to submit the following for your consideration. As you no doubt are familiar with the importance placed on navigation in the Lake Okechobee Caissoning River Project, and in order to protect navigation for a distance of some twenty miles of open water extending from St. Lucie Canal to Boca Point it will be necessary that some break water for refuge be provided."

"During the past week high winds were sufficient to sink floating equipment used by contractors on the levee project. It is evident that consistent regular freight traffic schedules would be difficult to maintain without some sort of haven."

"In a recent report to the Board of Engineers at Washington the statement was made that suitable anchorage facilities were available in this area, it is presumed that the anchorage referred to was the West Palm Beach Canal. It is difficult for the writer to see where this canal can be effectively utilized in stormy weather."

"I therefore request for and in behalf of the city of Pahokee that a hearing be held at your convenience, that such data might be presented as would more clearly show the economic justification of this project."

Pahokee under recent city and state wide registration will remain the largest single Democratic precinct in Palm Beach county, with around 1500 in each of the divisions.

A. E. Hooks, better known as "Papa" has disposed of his cafe in Belle Glade and has purchased the Grill cafe in Pahokee from E. C. Bateman, Jr. Hooks has long been known as a top notch chef throughout the Glades. Mr. Bateman, who recently purchased the Grill will return to Belle Glade.

FIRST AID CLASS CLOSING

The first Cross First Aid class which has been holding sessions in Canal Point, numbering some 20 students, closed last Thursday night. Many of the men employed on the dike work were members of the class.

USING NEW TYPE DYNAMITE

Starting the first of the week, the contract between the large and blasting work began using a new type of dynamite, a product from the Dupont laboratories. This explosive requires both heat and shot impulse before it explodes, but when it does go off, it is claimed that it has great shattering force on the side type of dynamite.

Whitehair Wants—

been denied the opportunity of an education equally as good as the education of a wealthier boy was able to obtain if it had not been for our free schools.

"Free public schools enable all youth, rich and poor, to develop the full power of the brain with which they were born."

"Florida school standard is low and something must be done about it. Our teachers and our administrators, with an average tenure in office of only two years and an average salary of only $70 a month, are compelled to spend a lot of their time in looking for a job in good with the political powers that be."

In Tampa Mr. Whitehair urged Florida Sheriffs to cooperate in a statewide program designed to maintain a wholesome atmosphere in the various counties.

"I can understand how difficult it is for you to perform the duties of your office under threat of a snuffing policy in Tallahassee," he continued. "My view as your governor will be made clear to you and you can depend upon this always."

"In my opinion, our greatest weakness in law enforcement has been continual interference from Tallahassee. Instead of being Sheriff-in-Chief of Florida as has too frequently been the order of the day from my chief executives of the past, I shall be your friend, cooperate with you by minding my own official business."

To these remarks the lawyer-farmer and businessman candidate added: "I shall not be interested in the political careers of fictional politicians of the many counties of Florida, and I will never remove or worry you for the political exigencies of some one or group of men."

Because he traveled a Volusia belt for driving fun and machinery, said to be the greatest improvement in this branch of mechanics since the invention of the first belt and pulley, "Charles R. Short of Clermont is listed this year as one of the 28 outstanding leaders in American science and industry by the National Association of Manufacturers in New York."

WPA Workers Must Not Engage In Any Political Dabbling

Jacksonville, March 11. (FNS) — Roy Schroder, State WPA head, announced this week that he intended to keep the WPA in Florida free from political alliances.

In a letter to all workers in the state, he warned that no WPA worker should discuss politics while in the performance of his job, and that the WPA is definitely supporting no candidate for any office.

He further advised that any candidate who threatened the loss of a worker's job, or promised him a better one was violating the law.

"You are under no obligation to support any candidate for office, and it is your right as an American citizen to vote for whom you please," he said. "You do not owe your WPA job to politics and you need not fear of losing it through politics. Any demands made upon you for support or donations of money should be reported at once," Schroder concluded.

tion for his educational work, particularly as an occasional lecturer on various phases of teacher training institutions of higher learning and is now a director of the Florida Education Association and a prominent member of the State Association of Superintendents.

During his residence in Palm Beach County he has been actively engaged in public and community work. He has served on the Palm Beach Zoning Commission, the Palm Beach Recreation Commission, the Palm Beach Town Council and was secretary of the Palm Beach County Airport Association during the period in which the ground work was laid for the present airport. (He is a member of the Kiwanis Club, Masons and American Legion, in which organization he served as Chaplain prior to assuming public office.)

Mr. Leonard, who is a resident of West Palm Beach, is married and has two children, Jean and John, both of whom attend the public schools. He is a member of Memorial Presbyterian Church where he serves as an Elder and Superintendent of the Sunday School.

on his homefront and received hearty cooperation from the Board of County Commissioners and, up to the present, has been successful in exempting the home from all taxation as the people trusted when they voted for the homebased exemption. Mr. Owens' position in this attracted attention publicity and he never credited anything, sure to the county of Palm Beach than this, the people will always owe him a lasting debt of gratitude."

A great many of Mr. Owens' friends from all sections of the county urged him to be a candidate for the office of governor in the coming primaries. Substantial support was promised him and he gave the matter consideration. However, he declined to be a candidate this time and is seeking reelection to the office of tax assessor on the grounds of his past performance in office, courteous and kind treatment to everyone and with the full realization that the people of the county who elected him are the boss and that he is working for their interests at all times. He said today that he is truly grateful for the confidence that the people have had in him in the past and that, if he is elected to the office, he will bear in mind at all times that he is a servant of the people and work for their interests continually.

Food 25 to connect with present drainage canal of Gladesview drainage district to a point ten miles south and connect with Hillsborough canal. (Gladesview drainage canal mentioned runs north & south.) By connecting this main artery with east boundary of Gladesview drainage district, water control can be established for approximately three townships, reducing fire hazards.

Three control dams are anticipated in this plan.

North Pole Expects

Big Yuletide Mail

WASHINGTON, March 14. — The postoffice department, at the request of the North Pole in Alaska, has decided to place North Pole in Wisconsin.

It is decided that, effective July 1, the Dodge county town of Marshville shall hereafter be called North Pole.

Postmaster H. H. Schube promoted the change, saying that it ought to help Christmas postal receipts if his town had the name of Santa Claus' legendary home.

Mrs. Elizabeth Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Price, returned to New York City today, after a two months visit here with her parents.
